Townsite Selected and Named—Justice of the Peace and Doubtful War—ad-Road Repairing—A Bright Outlook

DEER LODGE, LINCOLN CO., NEV., May 11, 1897.

Editor Pioche Record:
In response to a call to meet at Messrs. Troutman & Clark's at 2 o'clock, May 9, 1897, thirty-one miners, prospectors and citizens showed up.

The purpose for which the meeting was called was to get the road between State Line and Eagle Valley repaired, to name the town, the site of which is at Troutman & Clark's and Knight's cabins, to petition for a postmaster, and other business.

The meeting was called to order. Mr. Johnson was elected as permanent chairman and W. E. Barney as secretary, and the assembly proceeded to business.

Mr. Moody informed the gathering that the County Commissioners would allow a road district, and to get the road repaired and kept in order we were to receive one-half the poll tax collected. Mr. Troutman was elected, and it was the sense of the meeting that the Commissioners qualify him to act as road commissioner. Mr. Troutman then gave notice that all hands turn out May 13th and stay with the repairing until it was finished. The road, by the way, is part of the old overlaid stage road between Pioche and Frisco. By almost unanimous vote the town was named Deer Lodge. The townsite selected is covered by the log cabin claims of Troutman & Clark and the Rollins claim owned by Knight & Ryland. The owners generously gave each member of the meeting a lot 30x100 feet, with the proviso that they build within ninety days. The townsite selected has many things in its favor. It is in the heart of the mineral belt; has water running beneath the surface the year round so that a twelve-foot well gives plenty of good, cool water. At present there is quite a stream running down the main street, and every canyon almost has a stream or spring in it. The ground surrounding the town is gently rolling country, densely covered with pinon pine and cedar, making a very picturesque site for a mining town.

It was decided to apply for a post-office. A petition was made out and signed by those present, and upon a vote being taken Wm. E. Barney was the choice for postmaster. We wish to establish a line between Urine and State Line via Deer Lodge. Mr. Moody, Cooper and Barney were appointed as a committee to petition the County Commissioners to allow a precinct and appoint a constable and justice of the peace. The assembly recommended Chas. Lytle for justice of the peace and James Knight for constable.

Mr. Chas. Lytle, Clark and Allison were appointed to name the surrounding heights so that claims could be tied to them, making their identification easier.

Prospectors and mining men with capital behind them come in every day. New locations are made right along. Men who have been in nearly every mining camp say that they never saw such surface indications as here. There seems to be gold and silver everywhere, and several Utah and Colorado men are here with the intention of putting up a mill.

H. H. Cooper, with the assistance of Harry Deatherage, is putting up a building in town to be used as a store. The six Homestake boys are putting up a 12x24 building preparatory to beginning work on the Homestake group of claims. Your correspondent will give a general write up of the claims in the camp.

The Philadelphia Press says: "Since very few Americans interested themselves in the proposition to raise a jubilee fund of $1,500,000 to celebrate Victoria's long reign, it is just as well that the English at Newport and their Anglo-American friends be allowed to celebrate the event as they see fit. If they lay out a park and call it Victoria park it will do no one an injury; but that there is any reason for Americans to enter into this fuss, flummery and fulsome flattery of a Queen is not apparent. We can respect her more by respecting ourselves."

The Governor of Kentucky has pardoned a 12-year-old girl who had been sentenced to the penitentiary for one year for perjury. He says further that he will pardon every juvenile delinquent unless the Legislature at once provides funds for a State reform school. The Buffalo Express commends his course, saying:

A State which sends child criminals to the same prison with old and hardened convicts is lacking in civilization.

SOUTHWESTERN LINCOLN.

Dull in a Mining Way But Prospecting Still Goes On—Outrageous Treatment of a Woman—Left on the Desert to Perish.

The southwestern part of Lincoln county, Keystone, Sandy and surrounding country is not in a very thriving condition at present, but prospectors and others are working away hoping to succeed against all the odds incident to lack of ready means of transportation, or to make discoveries which will hasten the building of the promised road in that direction.

The Keystone property is practically abandoned and it looks as though the Lincoln Consolidated Mining company, which was organized to reconstruct the affairs of the old Keystone company and adjust its indebtedness, will be unable to accomplish that end. The mill at Sandy is left to the mercy of the elements. The place seems to be well named, for sand has completely covered the mill engine, assay outfit and other personal property which was left there. This is part of the property for which a receiver was appointed last year, and its present condition indicates gross negligence almost, in caring for it.

The Chariot Mfg. Co. which has been under the operation of S. T. Godbe for the past year, proposes to erect a ten stamp mill about half a mile south of Sandy. The Keystone Co's mill has been operated on Chariot ore long enough to ascertain that it is not suited to the ore nor economical to operate. But three men are employed on the Chariot property at present and Mr. Godbe is at Salt Lake.

The old Potosi lead mine is to be opened at greater depth than its old workings. James Morgan, of San Francisco, the owner of the property, is at the mine and has let a contract for a 100-foot tunnel to develop at depth. This is regarded as one of the greatest lead properties in that section of the country.

A shameful and cowardly act was committed near Sandy early last month, the particulars of which have just become known here.

Peter Reed who is Superintendent of the Sterling Mfg. Co. and who also acts as a Deputy Sheriff for the southwestern part of Nye county; Clarence Emerson and a woman by the name of Ida Hayes of Los Angeles, and who had been cooking for Reed, left Manso for Sandy on the morning of the 5th or 6th of April. The distance is about 35 miles.

The party undoubtedly drank on the road and when about 12 miles from Sandy Reed undertook to throw the woman out of the cart on Emerson's side, but Emerson caught her. Reed then threw her out on his side and drove on into Sandy. In the saloon there he remarked "A tramp will be along pretty soon." Emerson told some parties of the affair but at first no notice was taken of it, but as both Reed and Emerson said the woman was on the Desert, W. H. Gann started on horseback and John McClannahan with a cart to find her, taking water with them, the weather being exceedingly hot.

The rescuers found where the woman had been thrown out and followed her tracks. She had wandered aimlessly about, thrown away most of her clothing as she went and finally struck the road again where she was discovered by a prospector named Gus Williams, who placed her on his pack animal and started for Sandy. They were met by McClannahan, who took the woman to Sandy in his cart.

The woman was twelve hours in the hot sand of the desert wandering about without water and for half the first night after her rescue, was out of her mind.

Emerson said Reed threw her out. Reed said Reed threw her out, but it makes no difference, the fact remains that two men (?) left a woman to perish on the Desert, wantonly at that.

Peter Reed is one of the men that took a hand in the fight at Montgomery last year in which Phil Foote was killed.

Whitecap teaching and lessons are not thought much of in this section, but here is an instance where they could be very effectively put in force. An outrage of this character is something that is seldom chronicled and charged to the door of a western miner or prospector.

CONCENTRATING AT BULLIONVILLE.

The Phoenix Reduction Co. we understand, has leased a part of its mill to certain parties from the north, who have made arrangements to work the rich Raymond & Ely slimes by concentration on royalty, as soon as the necessary plant can be got there, and put in place, which it is expected will be not later than the end of July or August next.

The main object on the part of the Phoenix Co in this transaction we are informed, is to enable it to put up a suitable roasting furnace tanks etc, in which to chloridize and leach the sandy portion of the tailings, as was done before the former mill burst down in the summer of 1893.

We think we can bespeak for both parties a complete success, since judging from all we can learn, as to the quantity of gold and silver contents and the high percentage of lead contained in the slimes, it cannot well be questioned.

Concerning roasting and leaching the sandy portion of the tailings later on, as contemplated by the Phoenix Co, there would seem to be room for little doubt, as this mode of treatment was demonstrated in a practical way on a large scale, before the fire by the old Bullionville Company.

We hope to chronicle good times once more, at the old stamping ground, at the head of Meadow Valley Wash, where so many millions in gold and silver were turned out by an amalgamation in the palmy days of early seventies.

We understand that several parties are displeased because the Record of late has failed to notice the arrival in the town of several infantile additions to our sparse population. This may be all right, but the parties must remember that there are items of domestic interest that the newspaper man is hardly justified in ferreting out as he would a murder or burglary. It has been said that the people have no rights which the newspaper man is bound to respect, but we don't believe the best ruler among them would be justified in calling attention to these little angelic visitations show signs of being expected, to inquire if the event had really occurred. So, end the newspaper man's curiosity or anxiety and send around word of your births, and they will be published all right, and don't forget to state whether the "mother and child are doing well."

Salt Lake City in July next will be the liveliest city in the Union in the way of visitors. Early in July thousands of Christian Endeavors will visit the Mormon capital; the Trans-Mississippi Congress will open its session there on the 14th, and on the 20th will commence the Jubilee festival of four days, with President McKinley and some of his cabinet in attendance, if possible for them to get there, and the great exponent of the white metal, Hon. W. J. Bryan, as honored guests, will draw thousands upon thousands to the city on the shores of the great dead sea, and make her conspicuous in the eyes of the Nation.

It will be remembered that when Swami Vivekananda, the gifted Hindu, was in this country he was very popular with the ladies. He has now gone home, and in describing American women to his countrymen said, according to report: "When a woman tries her best to find a husband she goes to all the bathing places imaginable and tries all sorts of tricks to catch a man. When she fails in her attempts she becomes an 'old maid' and joins the church." That is what comes of patronizing the heathen.—Call.

This is admitted to be the finest spring season this part of the country has experienced for many years. The weather has been pleasant and showers have occurred in some quarter or other every day. The result is an abundance of feed in the mountains and miles upon miles of wild flowers. There will be no difficulty in securing large quantities of them for the 30th inst.

The fear is now expressed that the vaults of the New York treasury are so full of gold and silver as to endanger the lives of those in the building. Without authority, the Chicago Inter-Ocean volunteers to say that there are thousands of people who would cheerfully assist in relieving the pressure if asked.

Spanish justice is well illustrated in the imprisonment and abuse of a 7-year-old boy for the offense of wearing a Cuban flag on his shirt waist. But where is the American child of that age who would not wear any flag of bright colors on his waist that he happened to get his bay fingers upon? Shame upon such chicanery!

The Chicago Times-Herald says: "If Colorado admits women to membership in the National Guard, why not utilize the Colorado militia in times of peace for comic opera choruses?"

LIVED ON THE FAT OF THE LAND.

Ancient Romans Could Eat the Choicest Delicacies of the World. When at its zenith the Roman empire laid all the barbaric countries of the world under contribution to supply the tables of its nobles and wealthy citizens with the fine luxuries of life, says Lippincott's Magazine, Asia and Africa poured in the rich spices and fruits of the tropics; Germany and the great north countries raised the grains and wild berries; Italy and the fertile land of the Franks cultivated the vineyards to make or express the wine; every strip of sea coast from the Mediterranean to the Baltic contributed its quota of fish, and the forests of Brittany yielded the wild game of the woods—birds, beasts and fowls—for the banquets of the proud, dissolute rulers of the vast empire. With the choice products of a great world so easily obtained there were wanton waste, foolish extravagance and a strange disregard of the value of expensive luxuries, and the historian dwelling upon these times delights in recapitulating the various articles of diet arranged in tempting manner upon the glistening tables at the great feasts and banquets.

But, excepting Nero's dish of peacock tongues and Cleopatra's cup of wine with the dissolved pearls in it, the menu of our modern banquets would compare favorably with those spread in the times when gluttony, licentiousness and greed for luxury were insidiously sapping the strength of Rome.

FROM THE PAGES OF ROMANCE. Many Geographical Names Taken from Noted Works of Fiction. America can show many geographical names taken from novels, says the San Francisco Argonaut, California comes from the name of a fairy kingdom in a Spanish romance of the early sixteenth century. The Antilles take their name from Antilia, an imaginary island figuring in Italian legends connected with the wanderings of St. Brendan, and marked in the latitude of the Sargasso sea on Catalan and Genoese Portulans of the thirteenth and fourteenth centuries. Montreal is by some said to take its name from a legendary castle mentioned in French romances of a very early date. The island of Barataria, lineally descended from Sancho Panza's imaginary governorship, also figures on the maps of Louisiana, while it is a moot question whether the strait of Juan De Fuca does not take its name from a historical geographical romance, a La Rive Hagard, devised by a Greek sailor of Queen Elizabeth's day for the benefit of her majesty's resident at Venice and his own pocket. "I Brazil" is found in early Irish legend as an island in the Atlantic, and was a moot question whether the empire of Brazil derives its name from this creation of Celtic fancy or from wood from which a dye resembling in color burning cinners was made.
